

Overview

The steps followed in filing a document in a criminal case are the same as those filed in a civil case. However, you will notice some differences in the screens used to file in a criminal case, and some of the types of events from which you will select are different from those available in a civil case. To learn how to file a motion, brief, or other document in a criminal case, see the appropriate section of this guide.

Click Criminal on the Main Menu.
